

The Oldest Profession?

Prostitution is not the oldest profession - it is no profession at all. What kind of profession is it when the longer that you stay within it, the worse your health is, the more at risk all your life circumstances become? What kind of profession is it which few mothers, fathers or teachers would want children to enter, mindful of those children's future well-being and happiness? In what other profession are its members beaten, reviled, kidnapped, stolen from and regularly murdered?

This is no profession. Prostitution is the most profound and intimate form of exploitation from the beginning of one's journey within it to the end. The grooming, enticements, deception and abuse practiced in its 'career development' are the grossest form of abuse. Having sexual access to one's body purchased for money is a profound denial of each person's divine gift of equality and dignity. For men and women, punter and those pimped or prostituted, human dignity is eroded. For those trafficked into prostitution this is no 'professional opportunity' but violent enslavement into the contemporary slave trade for sex.

NOT FOR SALE Sunday is an initiative of CHASTE.

All funds raised will help CHASTE to take forward its work and vision to end trafficking for sexual exploitation.
